Alyce Amend

Alyce passed away last week from complications with COVID and COPD at the age of 92. Alyce was a long-time member who did the newsletter in the early days of the club for many years, participated in the judging competition, taught soap carving to school students, and when she wasn't competing she administered first aid as Nurse Goodbody during carving contests.

Her carving collection has been given to the club and several of the collectibles will be raffled at the carving show. The remainder will be awarded as door prizes at club meetings.

Bill Huggins and Bob Block with Bill Payne Carol Alley at EOWA booth at Broken Arrow Farmers Market. There were many visitors and hope to see them in September at our show.

Note from Great Plains Woodcarvers:

The Great Plains Woodcarvers Show and Sale scheduled for October has been canceled.

If you have a project in progress or finished but don't feel comfortable attending the meeting please send me a photo and description for Show and Tell or for judging. As of newsletter publishing time there have been no submissions for February. Please send photos to my email address.

You can enter the monthly judging virtually by sending me a photo of your work for consideration at the meeting.

If enough entries are received they will be part of the live judging. Send photos for January judging to ytsurjohnson@aol.com. More than one view of carving would be nice.

September Show and Tell:

Bill Payne's first attempt at woodcarving many, many years ago yielded this bear (above) modeled after a Disneyland coloring book character. Bill described his attempts and mistakes to the amusement of the membership. If he would dust it off, repaint the guitar and give it some strings he could probably still get a ribbon for caricature animals.

Woodcarving Competition Change for Single Item in a Category

In past shows if there was only one entry in a category the piece was then reentered in a "miscellaneous" category. This yielded a wide variety of subjects for the judges to consider in one category. In a new judging set-up a single entry in a category will not be moved to a "miscellaneous" category. The singular carving will be judged on its own merit. If the judge team awards the carving a point total between 121 and 150 points it will receive a Blue ribbon, between 91 and 120 points a Red ribbon, between 61 and 90 points a white ribbon, between 31 and 60 points a Green ribbon. Any carving receiving less than 30 points will be awarded a certificate of competition.

There will still be a "miscellaneous" category for carvings that fit no other category. Each carving in this category will be judged on its own merit and be awarded a ribbon based on the above point totals. Therefore, it would be possible that more than one blue ribbon could be awarded, or none, or that all entries receive a red or white ribbon.
