Carving Friends:

It is with great sadness that I have been asked to inform you the North Texas Woodcarvers Guild has closed shop. It would be easy to blame COVID, but truthfully interest and attendance has been waning for years. All remaining monies in the Guild account was split between two North Texas charities - the North TX Food Bank and Patriot Paws. I trust the recent time of isolation allowed you to carve more and you'll find other carving groups as life returns to some form of normalcy. Stay healthy and keep carving.

Best Regards,
Jerry Neild

Gary Bennett's totem pole (above). Got about 14 to 18hrs in it right now. This was before the show, more work done during show. For contrast, a glass totem at Crystal Bridges Museum (right).

This jacket (also at the Crystal Bridges Museum) was on display during the Craft in America show. I don't remember if it was fashioned from clay or wood but either way the detail is amazing.
